一、任务一 完形填空。

I have a problem with my parents: I want to wear some nail polish(指甲油) but they won't 1 me to do so. They tell me that only after I have reached twenty-one can I decide anything for 2. This is so 3. I think nail polish is beautiful, and many of my friends wear nail polish to school. I told my parents about it but they still 4 listen. How can I wait 5 I'm twenty-one?

Olivia, 11, China

Hey, Olivia! If you want to wear it and your friends 6 you about it, here is what you can do. Sit down with your mother in a quiet place and tell her not to start yelling(叫嚷) and saying “no” right away. If she does do this 7 you tell her, say, “You might have wished to 8 and probably got to wear it when you were at my 8.” But don’t yell at her, and if she says she couldn’t do it at your age either, then that is probably the reason 9 she doesn’t want you to do so. If you still can’t wear it ... oh well, then don’t. Don’t make it worse by wearing it when they tell you not to. If your friends laugh at you, tell them you don’t 10 about what they say. And if they make unfriendly jokes on you, then they are not your true friends.
