一、(郴州市中考)阅读理解。

My mother was a cleaner in our school dinning hall when I was in the middle school. At that time she was such an embarrassment(难堪) to me not only because of her job but also her look. She had only one eye. Every time I saw her in my school, I pretended(假装) not to see her and ran away.

After leaving school, I got a good job in another city. Then I got married and had two kids. I told my family that my parents had been dead, so they never saw my mother, even her photo. But one day, I got a letter. It read:

My dear son Jeff,

I'm sorry to disturb you, but I really miss you all the time. I'm afraid that I will have no chance to see you again.

I'm sorry that I was always an embarrassment to you when you were growing up. However, I had no choice. When you were very young, you had an accident and lost an eye. As a mother, I couldn't stand that you would have to grow up with only one eye.

So I ...

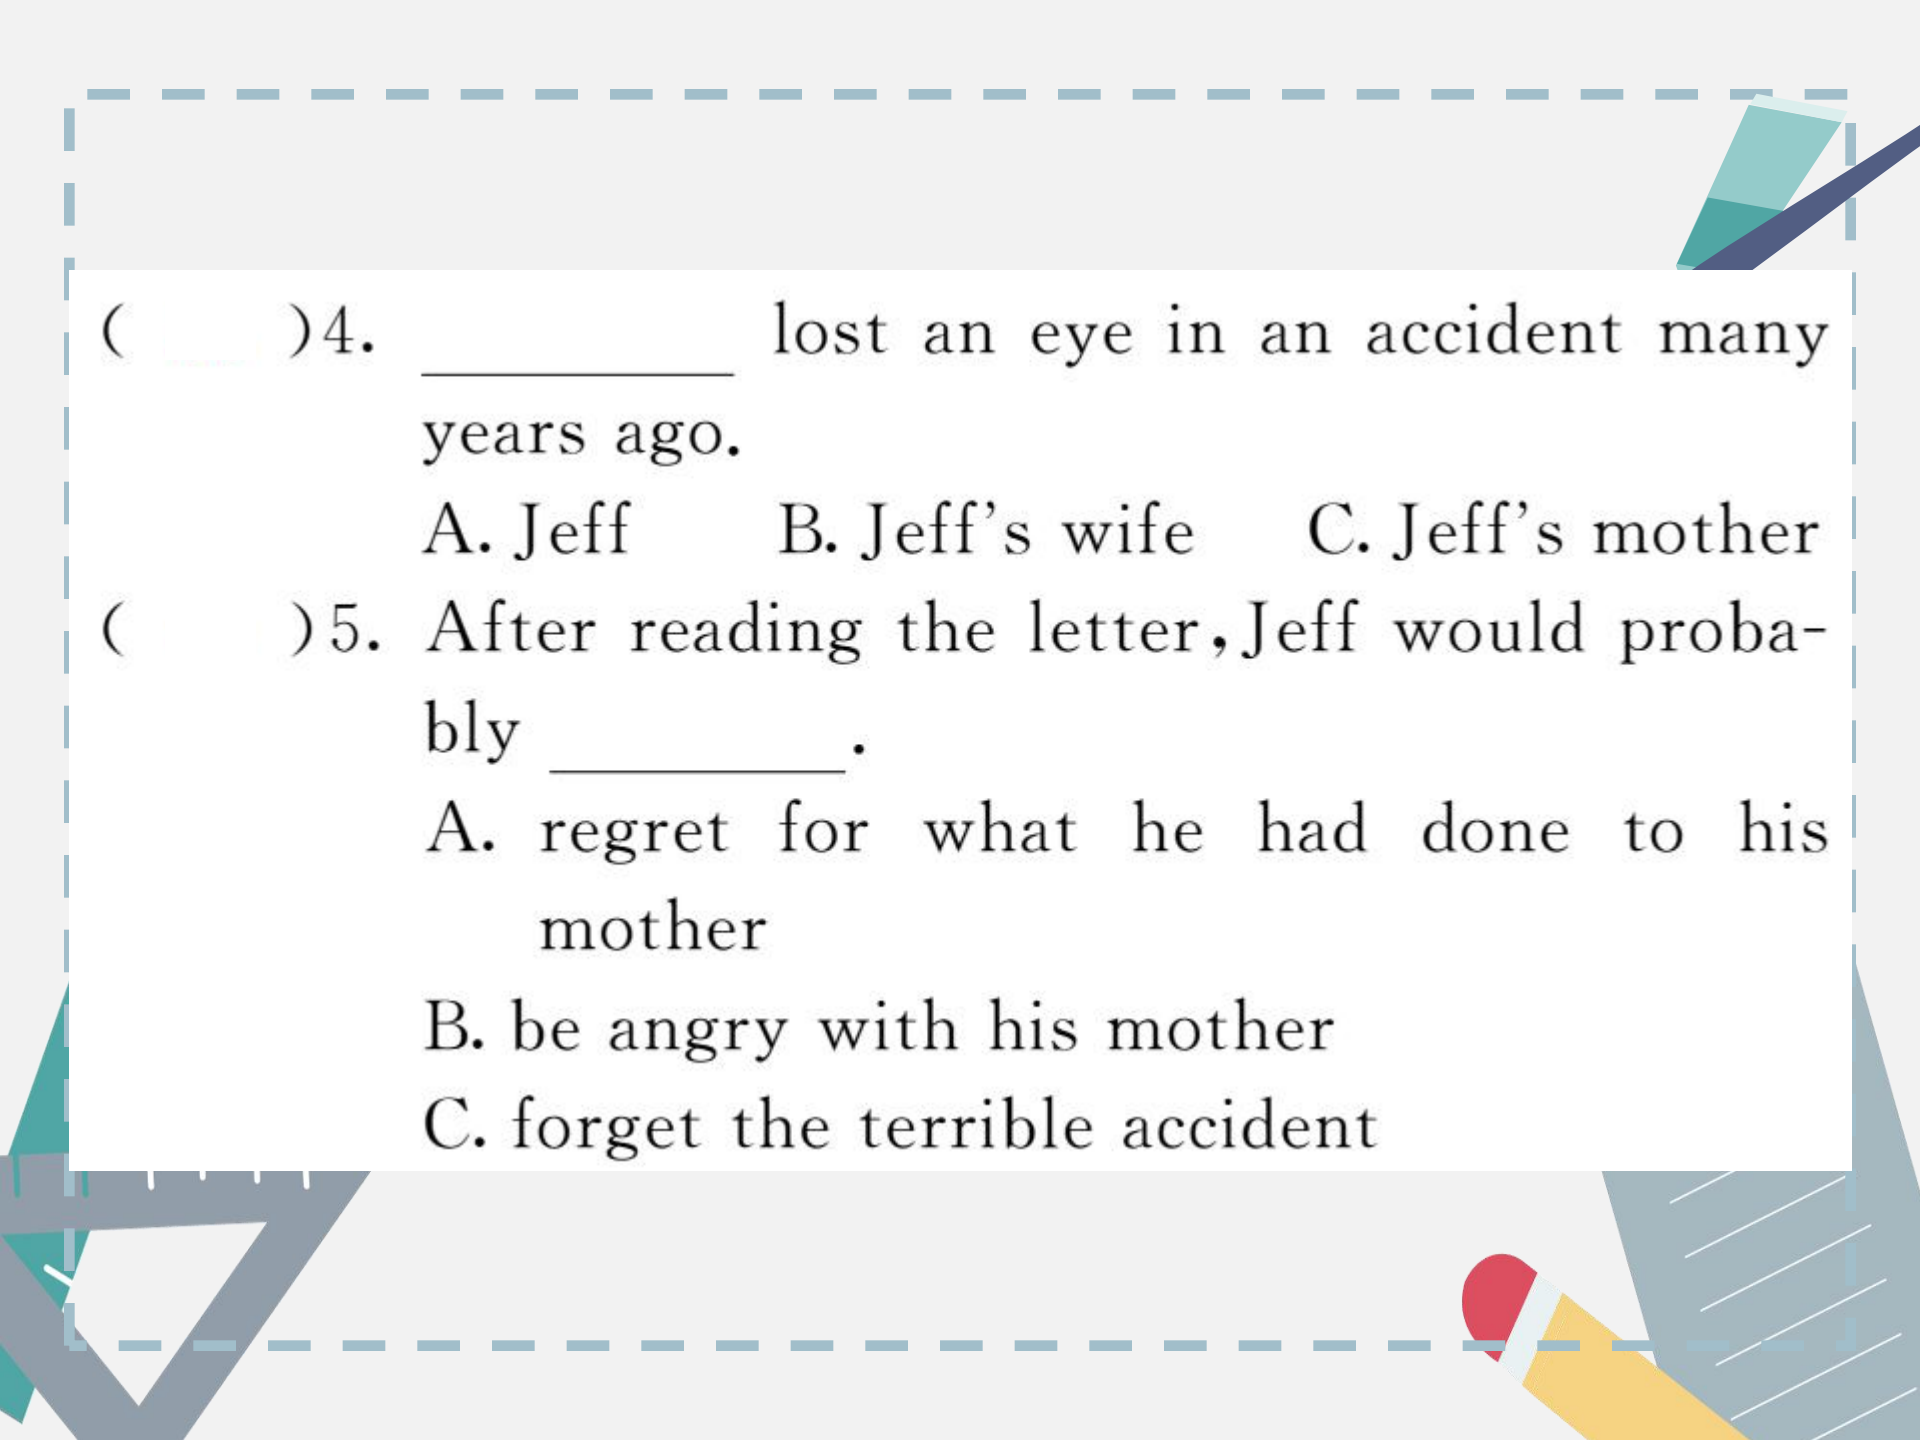

I was proud of my son who was enjoying his beautiful world for me with that eye.

With all my love to you!

Mom

After reading the letter, I cried for a long time.

二、(兰州八中模拟卷)任务型阅读。

根据短文内容,按要求完成下列各题。

Talking to the parents may be difficult or terrible—especially when it comes to certain subjects.

Here are some suggestions to make it easier.

Talk about everyday stuff—and do it every day.
The more you do something, the easier it gets. Talking to parents about everyday stuff builds a bond that can help you discuss something more serious with them later.

Find something to chat (聊天) about each day.
Talk about how your team did at the sports meeting.

Share something one of your teachers said. Even a small talk about what's for dinner can keep your relationship comfortable.

It's never too late to start. If your relationship with your parents makes you feel nervous, try getting into conversations slowly. Mention the cute thing the dog did. Talk about how well your little sister is doing in math. Chatting with parents every day not only keeps the present relationship strong, it also can help a might-be-worse relationship get better.

When parents feel connected to your daily life, they can be there for you if something really impor-
